A listed entity should:

- (a) undertake appropriate checks before appointing a director or senior executive, or putting someone forward for election, as a director; and
- (b) provide security holders with all material information in its possession relevant to a decision on whether or not to elect or re-elect a director.

However, the Board recognises that people are the most important asset to drive value for NPR and is committed to the maintenance and promotion of workplace diversity. NRML will work cooperatively with the Manager to enhance the diversity of staff engaged to work on NPR consistent with Recommendation 1.5, whilst also recognising that other selection criteria, in particular business acumen, appropriate skills and industry experience, are also fundamentally important to the Group.

NRML has not identified material specific environmental or social risks to its assets or business prospects, but recognises that future changes in regulations such as those dealing with climate change may require material expenditure to maintain compliance. NRML has adopted an ESG framework under which it is working to enhance its environmental and climate related risk management, working towards reporting to the TCFD framework.

Principle 8: Remunerate fairly and responsibly

A listed entity should pay director remuneration sufficient to attract and retain high quality directors and design its executive remuneration to attract, retain and motivate high quality senior executives to align their interests with the creation of value for security holders and the entity's values and risk appetite.
